

Southern Drive Builds In Senate

was bitterly opposed by organized labor.

The southerners were said to have misgivings over provisions of the amendment which would define union membership, permit trial of a southern offender in northern courts and arm the labor secretary with power to obtain court injunctions to enforce the measure.

FEAR SPREAD

They feared the injunctive feature might serve as a precedent and lead to the use of similar enforcement powers in the field of civil rights.

The compromise, it hammered into final shape and accepted by the Senate, would pave the way for swift approval of the overall labor reform bill, possibly later Friday night.

In a flurry of last-minute developments, the Senate voted to write a compromise curb on organizational picketing into the reform bill. This action came after the Senate twice had rejected major efforts to restrict union pressure tactics.

The compromise provision, approved by an overwhelming margin of 86-4, would limit union picketing designed to persuade workers to become union members or to compel an employer to bargain with a union.

The amendment was worked out by seven GOP senators after the chamber turned down, 59-30, a stronger version pushed by McClellan.

The Senate also rejected an amendment by McClellan to ban secondary boycotts, a device for compelling an employer to yield to a union's demands by applying pressure on his customers. The vote was 50 to 41.

The defeat of the two McClellan amendments represented a personal victory for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), chief sponsor of the bill, who put his prestige on the line in the fight against the two proposals. Kennedy supported the compromise on the picketing curb.

Under the compromise, union picketing to compel union membership or recognition would be outlawed if:

—The employer already had recognized another union and his action had not been challenged under the law, or —A representation election had been held at the picketed firm within the previous nine months. This condition would be waived if the picketing union had won the election or could prove that it represented a majority of the workers.

Violations would be guilty of an unfair labor practice subject to possible cease-and-desist orders of the National Labor Relations Board.

Meanwhile, Kennedy forces concentrated on the southerners in an effort to eliminate from the measure McClellan's "bill of rights," which was approved by a one-vote margin Wednesday night. The southerners supported the amendment almost solidly.

But Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.), one of the few southerners who voted against the proposal, noted that the provision would give the secretary of labor the authority to obtain court injunctions to protect the rights of rank-and-file union members.

He said this injunctive procedure might open the door "for such procedures in the field of civil rights."

McClellan told the Senate that his two proposals for banning organizational picketing and the secondary boycott were aimed at union racketeers.

The secondary boycott proposal would have barred unions from trying to force wage and other demands on employers by getting other firms to refuse to deal with them.

Kennedy, in urging its defeat, said the Taft-Hartley law already bars unions from picketing to enforce such demands. He said the amendment would make it impossible "for decent employers and employees to protect their interests in economic standards."

He said this amendment, like McClellan's proposal to ban organizational picketing, would have prevented unionization of garment industry "sweat shops" if it had been in effect in the past.

McClellan told the Senate that organization picketing violated the rights of workers and threatened to "put little businessmen out of business."

Promotion Here Is Announced

Mrs. Joyce T. Smith, loans and discount teller at the West Monroe branch of Ouachita National Bank, was recently elected assistant cashier.

She has been with the bank since 1946, having served as bookkeeper, paying and receiving teller and other positions.

The announcement came from R. L. Vanderpool Jr., president.

Operation Interstate Project

His pajamas neatly folded in his own tiny suitcase, 2-year-old Richard Wickwire Jr., of Omaha, accompanied by his mother, enters a hospital for heart surgery that has become an interstate project. Nearly 400 persons from three states answered a Red Cross appeal for the rare A-2, B-negative type blood needed for the operation. Twenty-five suitable donors were found and the operation has been scheduled for Monday. (AP Wirephoto) cessfully then that the provision would deny accused persons the right of trial by jury, and give the Federal Government the right to start proceedings on behalf of anyone it considered a victim of discrimination.

Ellender said that while he endorses the aims of McClellan's amendment, he believes the new federal injunctive power would "rise to haunt us in the future."

The amendment was passed Wednesday 47-46 and a move to block reconsideration narrowly passed when Vice President Richard Nixon broke a 45-45 tie. Lister Hill and John Sparkman, both Alabama Democrats, were the only southern senators who joined Ellender and Long in voting against the measure.

A spokesman for Ellender's office said "a large amount" of telegrams protesting his vote had been received from Louisiana.

By Friday, however, an unsigned memorandum began circulating among southern senators asserting that approval of the amendment would destroy their cases against the use of injunctions in civil rights cases.

The memorandum also stated that the McClellan amendment could be used to enforce desegregation in labor unions. It said, "not only would an integrated union be required, but integrated social activities such as union dances, integrated union youth programs and integrated union resorts, for example, would also be required."

The memorandum, coupled with cloakroom persuasion by northern backers of the original Kennedy-Ervin bill, sparked a move to strike out McClellan's amendment. The success of the drive was undecided late Friday.

Long stated that the McClellan amendment "would permit the attorney general to sue and get an injunction against the labor union on behalf of a laboring man who might not even want to sue." He added, "it might very well be that they could be tried by the judge and put in jail without a jury trial—now that's what we southerners fought to preserve the right of a jury trial—when we had the civil rights bill up."

Long also said he believed the McClellan amendment would saddle many small unions with unnecessary legal record-keeping and that other provisions would duplicate existing state laws.

required for a fair rate of return," Bartee charged.

At Monroe, commission chairman John McKeithen said the court "affirmed almost completely the decision of our commission to deny the 15 million dollar increase the telephone company sought."

As to the order to grant the smaller rate hike, McKeithen said the decision "would have to be made by the commission jointly after conferring with its legal staff."

"In view of the telephone company's resumption of construction, I would be inclined to recommend to the commission that the $1,918,707 rate increase as ordered by the court be allowed to go into effect."

He added it was reassuring to have Judge Herget's decision "confirming the fact that we have acted fairly within the law and acted fairly with this large business firm."

Police Jury To Advertise For 4 Trucks

The Ouachita Parish Police Jury voted to advertise for four dump trucks and a tandem in a special meeting last night.

L. B. Pettit, Ward 3, pushed the move, pointing out that the parish highway department needed the equipment for summer work.

In other action, the Police Jury:

1. At the request of Juror W. F. Golsen, Ward 6, granted Arkansas Gas Co. a right-away.
2. Granted secretary-treasurer Miss Nell Cheek and her assistant a $25 monthly raise.

3. Changed the voting polls in three precincts.

POLLS

The Police Jury voted to move the polls in Ward 3, Precinct 3, from the Jackson St. Bakery to Bosely Auto Service; in Ward 5, Precinct 14, from Sullivan's Grocery to I. B. Jackson Grocery; and in Ward 5, Precinct 7, from the West Monroe Livestock Auction Barn to the Clayton-Calhoun Auction Barn.

At the request of Ward 1 Juror F. G. (Red) Studdard, the jury moved to officially close a road in Studdard's ward on Black Bayou. Studdard said the road was closed already.

Studdard said he was asked to close the road by Bill Smith.

All members of the jury were present with the exception of Ward 2 Juror W. J. Vinson, who is ill.

Sight-Saving Operation Is Set For Boy

Hugh Thornhill, the seven-year-old Natchez, Miss. boy who grabbed the nation's sentiment while battling to save his only eye, will fly to California today in what doctors hope will be the final sight-saving operation.

Mrs. J. J. Austin, 203 Central Ave., West Monroe, the boy's grandmother, told The World last night the boy will leave by plane today from Natchez with his parents to visit a San Francisco eye specialist.

The specialist, Dr. William Ferguson, began treating the boy on Jan. 15, the day he was originally scheduled to have his left eye removed.

The right eye had been removed because of glaucoma, the disease affecting the left eye at the present.

At that time Ferguson treated the child for several days and sent him home where treatment has been under Ferguson's direction.

SUCCESSFUL

Mrs. Austin said last night that treatment to dissolve a cataract on Hugh's eye had been successful.

When treatment began the boy could hardly detect light from darkness, Mrs. Austin said.

But since then, the boy has been able to watch television and play well with other children, the grandmother added.

Mrs. Austin explained that it was not known at the present just what kind of operation was planned.

However she recalled that Ferguson had said at the outset of treatment an operation might be necessary in three or four months. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Thornhill, formerly of Winnsboro, Monroe, and West Monroe, will accompany their son to California today.

They took him there in January. Treatment by the California specialist resulted from a news dispatch originating in The World and carried by national wire services.

A Utah couple whose granddaughter had been treated by the specialist contacted the Thornhills.

Natchez residents began a Hugh Thornhill fund to bear the brunt of expenses.

Health Chief Reports On Milk Safety

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney has assured Congress that the amount of radioactive strontium-90 in milk holds no immediate danger to the health of consumers, it was disclosed Friday.

He gave the assurance after Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R-Wis.) said the milk business was being hurt by "scare headlines and stories" based on the Public Health Service's monthly reports on radioactivity.

Laird suggested the Health Service stop issuing the monthly reports. Burney said, however, that this would lay the service open to criticism for withholding information from the public.

Laird questioned Burney about reports on strontium-90 from H-bomb tests during hearings last month by a House Appropriations subcommittee. A transcript of the testimony was made public Friday.

The dairy congressman asked if there has "ever been a degree of (radioactive) contamination detected in milk that has constituted an immediate danger to the health of individuals."

"No, sir," Burney replied.

Laird said the monthly health service releases have stressed that the strontium-90 content of milk was "far from dangerous." But he said "this fact somehow is lost in the account in the press."

The congressman asked why the agency didn't limit its press releases to the strontium content of water. He said that using milk alone "has a tremendous effect upon the economy of the great milk producing areas."

The surgeon general agreed that the monthly strontium reports "do continually sensitize the public to a hazard which we do not believe is a dangerous one and may affect the use of what we believe is a very desirable food."

Savings Group Plans To Build In West Monroe

Plans for the People's Home-Steel and Savings Association to build a West Monroe location were announced yesterday.

O. A. Easterling, president, made the announcement, and also gave results of the annual election of officers.

J. C. Steele Jr., West Monroe, was elected a vice president. Re-election of the current officers was also announced. They are, besides Easterling, E. E. Eaves, vice president; James Larkan Jr., secretary, and Herbert Milford, assistant secretary.

The association has taken option to buy property fronting 200 feet in the 300 block of Cypress Street.

It is proposed that 70 feet on Cypress will be bought from Joe Durrett and sons and 130 feet from Mr. and Mrs. George L. Tidwell for a total sum of about $67,000.

Easterling said the new building will be modern in every way and will be comparable to the Monroe operation.

Suspect Faces 6 Charges Here

Sheriff's authorities here yesterday said they had arrested a Houma man on six charges involving alleged theft by false solicitation of advertising a license tag violation, and contributing to the delinquency of his son.

Sheriff Bailey Grant identified the man as William S. Butler, 42, and said Butler was picked up after considerable investigation.

Grant said Butler was accused of soliciting advertisements for a labor magazine and had obtained four prepaid ranging from $5 to $75.

The labor paper was reportedly approved by local unions but union officials denied any knowledge of its existence, Grant said.

Butler's 16-year-old son was being used to make the collections, Grant said.

BY STATE DIRECTOR

Welfare Critics Are Challenged

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A state welfare official Friday challenged critics who say Louisiana's extensive public welfare program promotes illegitimacy.

O. C. Sills, welfare services director, told the State Board of Public Welfare there has been no significant change in the ratio of illegitimate to legitimate births during the past 25 years.

He added, in a report on activities of a special committee of the Louisiana Police Jury Assn. studying illegitimacy, less than 19,000 of the 110,000 illegitimate children under 18 in Louisiana are on welfare rolls.

"Major goal for the committee," Sills said, "is new legislation making it possible to prove paternity and secure support for the children."

Present court rulings on state laws now make this impossible, for all practical purposes, he continued.

"Many mothers of illegitimate children have all the qualities of good mothers," Sills said, "and taking the child away from them is not the answer, in most cases."

It is no solution, he added, to remove a mother from welfare rolls when she has had a second illegitimate child.

"An illegitimate child gets just as hungry as a legitimate child," Sills said. "If the state cut off its aid, it would have to be made up from local sources."

As it is, he said, 70 per cent of all applications for aid to dependent children -- which includes illegitimate children -- are rejected. Those accepted are subject to continuous review by the welfare staff.

Out of the 19,000 illegitimate children on welfare rolls, Sills said 18,000 are Negro children.

He said studies show most mothers of illegitimate children come from poorer families with overcrowded homes and had little chance to develop high moral standards.

AUTO PRODUCTION

Auto production in the U. S. during April will surpass the goals set at the beginning of the month despite a slight drop in production this week, Ward's automotive reports said. The statistical agency said production this week reached 133,918 passenger cars and 26,260 trucks, off 1.5 per cent and 0.7 per cent, respectively from last week's totals.

Little Rock School Final Action Taken

CHICAGO (UPI) — The North Central Assn. took final action Friday to approve voluntary withdrawal from the NCA of three Little Rock, Ark., high schools closed in the struggle there over integration of schools.

The NCA disclosed that the commission on secondary schools already has approved the step. Technically, the action did not become final until the executive committee had approved it and the association voted as a whole today. But once past the commission hurdle, subsequent proceedings were only a formality.

The only alternative to voluntary withdrawal would be expulsion from the organization, an NCA spokesman said.

The move would hit at college plans of Little Rock high school students, since most colleges refuse to admit graduates of non-NCA - accredited high schools without examinations.

The three schools—Central, Hall and Horace Mann — were padlocked by Gov. Orval Faubus last Sept. 12 when the Supreme Court ordered integration at Central High.

William R. Ross, president of Colorado State College, was elected NCA president today. Another Coloradoan, Stephen A. Romine, director of the college of education at the University of Colorado, was named vice president.

Elmer Ellis, president of the University of Missouri, was re-elected to a four-year term on the executive committee.

NCA admitted 77 new high schools and 16 colleges and universities to membership, swelling the organization to 3,527 high schools and 416 institutions of higher learning.

Pascagoula Port Project Wins Backing

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Jackson County's port authority won six million-dollar state backing Friday to put Pascagoula into competition for world shipping.

The executive committee of the state Agricultural and Industrial Board agreed to stand behind the bond issue, saying the proposed program was sound enough to retire the bonds without depending upon state funds.

The port authority would use four million dollars to build a grain elevator and storage facilities on the Pascagoula River above Ingalls Shipbuilding Corp. and two million dollars to retire outstanding warehouse construction bonds.

Retirement of the bonds is necessary to put the county's special 2-mill ad valorem tax behind the port development program.

The authority's original request, the first under the 1958 ports and harbors law, was for 10 million dollars. But the executive committee reduced it to six million because the proposed program guaranteed only enough profit to retire that much in bonds.

However, the executive committee promised the port authority the other four million dollars if the grain elevator proves successful.

Before any action can be taken, the projects must be approved in a countywide election.

Under the program, the grain elevator would be leased to Standard Mill Co., an internationally known company, for operation as a public facility and for profit.

He estimated the elevator would process 500,000 to 750,000 tons a year.

Divided Labor Bills

In view of the Senate's defeat of a move to substitute the administration's Taft - Hartley law changes for milder revisions sought under the Kennedy-Ervin labor reform bill, a proposal made by Senator Russell Long (D-La.) may be about as good as any. Long suggests that the bill be split into two measures, the first dealing only with gangsterism within the unions and the other with labor-management relations.

Because a large number of the members of Congress were elected through the use of union slush funds and union support, it is a foregone conclusion that management will not make any appreciable gains this year through any new labor enactments.

Senator Kennedy, presidential aspirant, has hopes of getting business support by being able to put through a so-called labor reform bill but he also wants to restrain labor support by making it a cream-puff measure as far as imposing any restrictions upon labor is concerned. This is an attempted fence-balancing feat but if anyone is fooled into thinking the Kennedy-Ervin bill is anything but a bill designed to please labor, he is easy to deceive.

Sen. Long, in an address to the Senate, supported the cream-puff Kennedy-Ervin bill but asserted that the need for enacting legislation to prevent corruption and racketeering is imperative and stated he would like to see the anti-racketeering portion of the bill separated from the labor-management part. "to insure that the present bill would not become bogged down in heated debate." The Louisiana senator pointed out that previous attempts to change labor laws had ended in "much ado about nothing," and added:

"This Congress must enact legislation to prevent corruption and racketeering in the labor unions and on the part of those in management who aid and abet such practices. The abuses revealed by the McClellan committee have demonstrated conclusively that legislation in this field is overdue. The failure to enact such legislation at this time would be a grave blow to our democratic process and to our nation's economic well-being."

Sen. Long differentiated between two areas of legislation. He pointed out that corruption and racketeering requires different legislative treatment from the general problem of labor-management relations. He said:

"If we are to be able to agree on the exact changes that we should make in the present law in these two areas, I feel very strongly that we should separate them one from the other and attack them one at a time.

"We are all aware of the years of frustration which we have experienced in attempting to reform labor-management practices. In my 10 years in the Senate, I have seen two major bills pass the Senate, only to die in the House and I have seen President Eisenhower's recommendations for legislation in this field killed in the Senate by a motion to return the proposed bill to committee."

Sen. Long undoubtedly thinks a fairly effective anti-racketeering bill could be passed if it were not tied in with labor-management relations but that its chances would be poor under the combined bill. There is no reason to doubt this position.

Without doubt, Sen. Kennedy and many others are soft-soaping on their approach to the labor-management phase of the bill but legislators on both sides may be sincere in their desire to root out racketeering of the Dave Beck-James R. Hoffa type. If so, they should be given a chance to prove it by voting separately on the racketeering phase of the bill.

Castro's Agrarian Reform

In his "good will" visit to the United States, Cuba's new leader, Fidel Castro, has managed to sidestep questions put to him on the subject of communism. But his stated intention to institute what he terms a "legal expropriation of land" bears heavily on the direction taken by new communist movements in other nations.

American leftists were quick to point out the Chinese who chased Chiang Kai-shek off the mainland were "agrarian reformers" who had no real connection with Moscow. East Germany also underwent a land reform. It seems the first step the Communists take in assuming control of a nation is to break up large estates and turn them over to small landowners.

Castro's description of the matter is rather vague. He told the National Press Club, "We are going to legally expropriate lands, not nationalize them nor confiscate them, needed in the agrarian reform program."

He did not say whether the lands earmarked for the reform would be U.S. sugar properties or other American-owned enterprises in Cuba. But those with a "wait and see" attitude may be in for a rude awakening.

While he said he did not plan any change in the operation of the American - owned Nicaro nickel plant, he added he would like to see the plant produce two to three times more nickel so there would be more work for Cubans.

This also carries the ring of Russian industry: to produce more and more.

But Castro declares openly, "The war between the sexes will never end as long as there is sex," says a psychologist. Vive le guerre!

One reason for the growing volume of business done by the petroleum industry is that an increasing number of motorists are taking wrong turns at cloverleaf intersections.

"The war between the sexes will never end as long as there is sex," says a psychologist. Vive le guerre!

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAY'S

Ginzburg Firm Believer In Rights And Liberties

My old friend, Benjamin Ginzburg, is a firm and ardent believer in human rights and liberties and if anyone calls him a Communist, he is a liar. Were Ginzburg in Soviet Russia, he would be arrested and sent to the mines for being a deviantist, a Jeffersonian Democrat, an enemy of the people and a spy for imperialistic United States. As he lives in the United States, the worst that can be said about him is that he devotes a masterly intellect to the advocacy of correct ideals without any sense of practical application and a naive interpretation of the course of events.

HOLMES ALEXANDER

Quick Cures In Politics Hard

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Any night on television, you can see the before-and-after type of commercial in which the sufferer from headaches, stomach gases and other ills is instantly relieved by medication, but it doesn't work that way in politics. For example, there's the before - and - after condition as illustrated by Connecticut's two U. S. Senators, Bush (R) and Dodd (D).

Up till last year Connecticut could be called a Republican State in national affairs. All six Representatives and both its Senators were members of the GOP. But the upheaval of the 1958 election was dramatized in Connecticut as nowhere else. All six Republican can Senator, were turned out of office. It was a drastic medication if there ever was one. The before-and-after evolution was swift and fierce. And what are the results?

The results, I think, are very meager, and may be examined by a comparison of these two Senators in the 86th Congress. The tall, dark, handsome Prescott Bush arrived in the same year with President Eisenhower and is essentially the same sort of political thinker — apt to be liberal on human rights; apt to be conservative about financial affairs.

But in this Congress, the emphasis has shifted toward the financial affairs of the nation. Bush a banker in private life, apparently foresaw this, as did President Eisenhower. On November 5th at a press conference, the President made his well-remembered attack upon the "radicals" and "spenders" of the incoming Congress. On January 14th, Bush made a penetrating address in the Senate where he dubbed "inflation in America" as the Soviet Union's most deadly weapon against us. The Senator went on to offer a six - point program to halt inflation. Since then he has voted consistently to hold the line on Federal spending.

Not very surprisingly, Bush's position on the big spending bills has been almost exactly opposite to that of his Democratic colleague, Thomas Dodd. On the bills for omnibus housing, for airports, for area renewal, Bush was the Saver and Dodd the Spender. Each Senator has followed his party line Bush as the Modern Republican, Dodd as the Latter Day Democrat.

States, that it is, in fact, a myth and that the FBI is the devil behind the myth, seeking to gain power by spreading fear throughout the land.

He goes back to the Dies committee and correctly states that its chief investigator, Dr. J. B. Matthews "himself had organized more so-called Communist-front organizations than any other single individual . . ." This is a correct statement and it is precisely because this is correct that J. B. Matthews knows more about such organizations and was able to expose his own handiwork so skillfully.

Quick Cures In Politics Hard

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Any night on television, you can see the before-and-after type of commercial in which the sufferer from headaches, stomach gases and other ills is instantly relieved by medication, but it doesn't work that way in politics. For example, there's the before - and - after condition as illustrated by Connecticut's two U. S. Senators, Bush (R) and Dodd (D).

Up till last year Connecticut could be called a Republican State in national affairs. All six Representatives and both its Senators were members of the GOP. But the upheaval of the 1958 election was dramatized in Connecticut as nowhere else. All six Republican can Senator, were turned out of office. It was a drastic medication if there ever was one. The before-and-after evolution was swift and fierce. And what are the results?

The results, I think, are very meager, and may be examined by a comparison of these two Senators in the 86th Congress. The tall, dark, handsome Prescott Bush arrived in the same year with President Eisenhower and is essentially the same sort of political thinker — apt to be liberal on human rights; apt to be conservative about financial affairs.

But in this Congress, the emphasis has shifted toward the financial affairs of the nation. Bush a banker in private life, apparently foresaw this, as did President Eisenhower. On November 5th at a press conference, the President made his well-remembered attack upon the "radicals" and "spenders" of the incoming Congress. On January 14th, Bush made a penetrating address in the Senate where he dubbed "inflation in America" as the Soviet Union's most deadly weapon against us. The Senator went on to offer a six - point program to halt inflation. Since then he has voted consistently to hold the line on Federal spending.

Not very surprisingly, Bush's position on the big spending bills has been almost exactly opposite to that of his Democratic colleague, Thomas Dodd. On the bills for omnibus housing, for airports, for area renewal, Bush was the Saver and Dodd the Spender. Each Senator has followed his party line Bush as the Modern Republican, Dodd as the Latter Day Democrat.

who reject his pristine concept of liberty are evilly motivated, whereas actually their design is identical with his, namely, to do what he regards as small deeds, while he would by words educate the people not to believe what the Communists say. Meanwhile they steal the atom bomb!

When Ginzburg talks about the FBI he becomes particularly bitter because he is dealing with police powers and he obviously does not like cops. He says:

"The significance of the FBI role in the setting of loyalty-security policy lies in the fact that the professional police mentality is by its nature unfit and dangerous for policy making in a democracy—just as unfit and just as dangerous as is the professional military mentality for such a task. The function of the policeman is to investigate on suspicion. In carrying out this function he naturally tends to believe the worst and to prejudice the guilt of the suspect . . ."

The FBI sets no policies and has no authority under the law to set policies. It receives its instructions from Congress and from the attorney general of the United States. It so happens that J. Edgar Hoover has won the esteem of the American people and that his personal influence is enormous but if he were to evade the law, to become oppressive, to operate like, let us say, a Russian secret police organization, his personal popularity would melt like wet snow.

Actually, the FBI has carefully avoided performing many acts that have been attributed to it. Its job is to deal with espionage, not with the suppression of an authorized political party. Ginzburg is shocked by the fact that a good deal of what Elizabeth Bentley told the FBI on the occasion of her first confession could not be proved; it is astonishing that so much that Miss Bentley said led to such positive results because, after all, spies are not supposed to leave evidence of their espionage.

Every lead that came from Miss Bentley or anybody else had to be checked from the beginning. Nobody's word could be accepted. Espionage is a science and is only practiced competently by professionals. The amateur spy could become a menace and many of the Americans used by Soviet Russia did the Kremlin no good. They left too many fingerprints and footprints behind them.

The FBI is the only professional organization within the United States which is charged by law with domestic counterespionage. Outside the United States, this task is undertaken by the CIA. The United States has been and is at war with Soviet Russia and Red China and their satellites. It is a war fought by unconventional weapons and unorthodox methods. Two of the most severe techniques of this war, now called "The Cold War," are espionage and infiltration into government and industrial organizations. While the war proceeds, dare we permit espionage and infiltration to continue?

Benjamin Ginzburg sincerely says, "Yes! on the basis that it is not necessary to burn down the house to catch a spy; J. Edgar Hoover says, 'No! because the spies are burning down the house."

DR. PETER J. STEINCROHN

Star-Gazing Has Restful Effect

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: I have a formula for overcoming worry. I know many of your readers are anxious about themselves and their families.

I used to be a worrier myself, until one night I stumbled on a cure. I didn't just "glance up" at the stars. I lay down on the grass in our garden and "looked up" at them for an hour at a time.

Soon I came to realize how "insignificant" is each one of us "seemingly important" humans.

My worries began to disappear from then on. The secret is seeing yourself in true perspective. I hope some of your readers try it. It works.—Mr. B. B.

ANSWER: I recommend anything that will contribute to a good practical philosophy of life. I, like many others, have been a stargazer at times. They have a soothing effect.

You may be interested in this excerpt from a letter just received from Mr. W. O. of Washington, D. C.:

"Our Milky Way contains roughly about 400 billion stars and about 100 billion planets. So if its other solar systems are like ours, there are about 10 billion planets, which contain some forms of life, in our galaxy alone."

As the man said: "put that in your pipe and smoke it" whenever your job, family or friends are "getting you down." Whenever, in fact, you are feeling sorry for yourself. A few, long, looks at the stars will bring you into proper perspective again.

MAYBE IT'S CAUSED BY LIPSTICK

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Can lipstick cause allergy? Sincerely, H. H.

ANSWER: It is well known that powders, hair dyes, eyebrow pencils, lipsticks—and many other beauty treatments—may cause allergic reactions. What is not so commonly known is that the more "indelible" lipsticks produce, at times, chronic complaints.

For example, there is the case of the woman who switched to the newer, indelible type of lipstick. Within a few days she came down with a "cold" that lasted for months. Soon she had pharyngitis and sinusitis. Nothing seemed to help.

At last patch tests were performed that proved her sensitivity to this type of lipstick. She stopped using it. Within a few days she was free of all her symptoms.

Some patients get a dermatitis, swelling of the lips, vesicles, burning and tingling sensations before they even suspect the lipstick as the offender.

If you have changed lipstick brands lately and are subject to symptoms similar to those mentioned, have your doctor check on your lipstick.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: What happens when a pregnant woman suddenly gets leukemia? Is it more dangerous for the unborn child?

—N. C.

ANSWER: According to Dr. N. Mulla, writing in the Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology, leukemia may cause premature birth.

However, a leukemic mother has not been known to give birth to a leukemic child. There is no evidence that suggests that the leukemic cells pass the placental barrier between mother and child.

BASCOM TIMMONS

Chosen Pension Fund Supported

Some of the most persuasive letters Senators and Representatives have ever received on any issue have come to them urging their support for the bill allowing self-employed persons to set aside some of their earnings each year and pay taxes on such "voluntary pension" funds after retirement.

The letters have come from lawyers, doctors, dentists, writers, accountants, business men and other self - employed persons who would benefit. The House has already passed the bill. The Senate is certain to do so.

The Eisenhower Administration has got itself into a peculiar position on the legislation. President Eisenhower urged such legislation as a campaign promise. Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson opposes the legislation on the ground that it would take $365,000,000 of anticipated revenues out of the Treasury in the coming fiscal year and even larger amounts in future years. Therefore President Eisenhower may veto it.

As it passed the House a self-employed person would be permitted to deduct from his income tax account 10 per cent or $2,500 annually, whichever was smaller. The overall deduction in the period of years would be limited to $50,000.

The taxpayer would use those annual amounts as a sort of voluntary pension fund. Came the time at 65 or 70 years for him to retire from money-making activities the self-employed person would have to pay a tax on the amount he had deducted. Yet his tax burden would be lighter as his retirement would have placed him in a lower bracket.

Approximately 80 per cent of the tax relief would go to persons making more than $10,000 per year.

"We do not believe," Secretary Anderson said, "that selective tax relief of this magnitude should be permitted at a time when general tax relief is not possible."

Therefore if President Eisenhower does veto the legislation advocated in a campaign promise his grounds would undoubtedly be that it should come along with general tax relief. Such general tax relief is certainly not in the cards in the foreseeable future.

The legislation got a two-thirds vote in the House of Representatives. Whether it could muster that strength after a veto is unlikely.

It is easy to understand the steam generated behind the legislation in a five - year campaign. The beneficiaries are highly intelligent, tax - conscious, vocal persons all of whom occupy places of influence in their fields.

Daily Devotional

As for me, I will come into Thy house in the multitude of Thy mercy.—Psalm 5:7.

A very high percentage of our population takes part in church services at Christmas and Easter, but such brief "exposure" to the influence and teachings of God and Christ are not likely to have a profound effect on these infrequent worshippers. A physician, in prescribing for an eye difficulty, recently said: "Take these corrective capsules for a year." In prescribing a treatment for the non-Christian, one might well say, "Go to church and study your Bible for a year, that your unseeing spiritual eyes may be opened."

O God, we pray for the nominal Christian and all unbelievers, that spiritual sight may be fully restored. In His name. Amen.

of activity and in their communities.

These backers point out eloquently that the legislation would merely give them the same privilege that is now enjoyed by many employees. Fully a third of the employees in this country have company pension plans into which employees pay what amounts to tax - free income for workers.

Therefore, say the self - employed the present pension and social security laws discriminate against them.

There are, according to the estimates, seven million self - employed persons who under the legislation could put aside income under the do - it - yourself retirement plan. There are some gimmicks in the plan. For instance a man who started into it at 60 years could deduct more than the man who started at 50, because he got a later start.

While $2,500 is the maximum amount that could be deducted each year, few would be able to deduct this amount, it would be nearer $1,000 per year for the average net income of all self-employed in 1956, the last year for which figures are available, was $10,490.

Doctors, as an example, earn an average net of $18,000 per year and could take out $1,800 a year. Relatively few persons among the self - employed would reach the lifetime ceiling of $50,000 on which taxes could be deferred.

Withdrawals from the fund could start at age 65, and would be required by age 70.

If the bill becomes law the self-employed taxpayer probably could start taking his deductions at the September taxpaying period.

Pair Seeks New British School Girls' Uniforms

LONDON (UPI) — Lady Lewisham and her mother, authoress Barbara Cartland, said Friday despite an initial setback they were just beginning their fight to redesign "hideous" uniforms that made British school girls look like sausages.

The two women had urged Education Minister Geoffrey Lloyd to commission Norman Hartnell, the Queen's dressmaker, to redesign queen slips worn at private schools for girls.

They said they "hated the hideous things" when they wore them as girls. Another critic said the slips made the girls look like "carelessly-stuffed sausages."

Lloyd said the appeal was interesting, but rejected it.

PORTRAITS

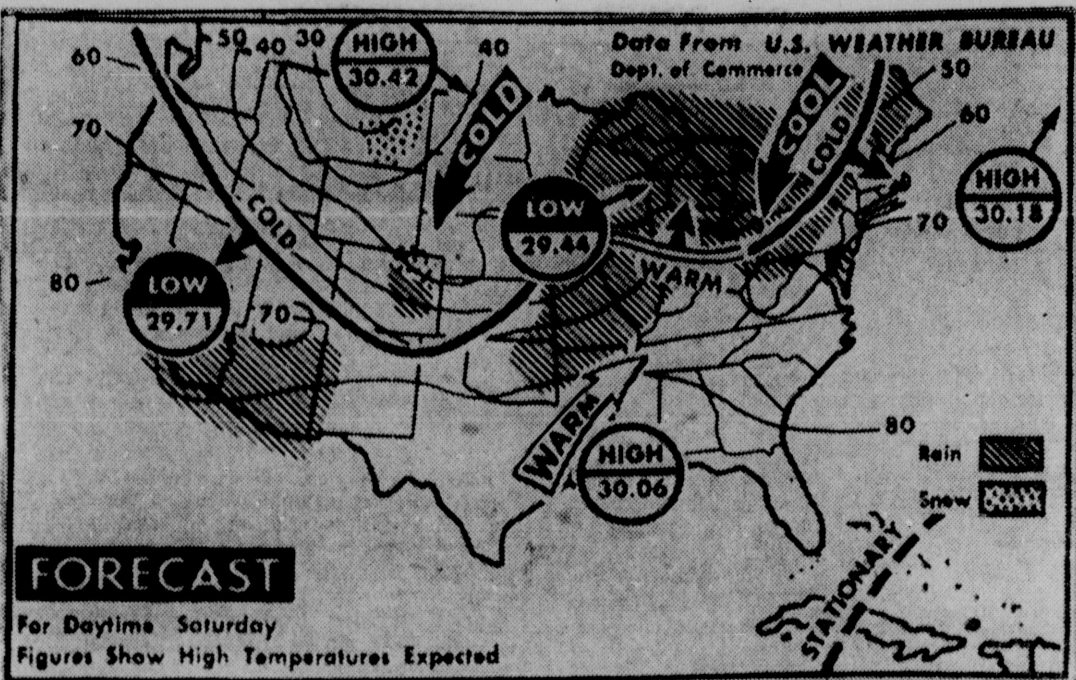

By James J. Metcalfe

Always Tomorrow?

THERE always is tomorrow if . . . Our faith in God is true . . . And if we pray to Him for help . . . In everything we do . . . "Tomorrow" means "no sudden death" . . . But time still to be spent . . . In which to make amends for wrongs . . . And all our sins repent . . . God grants tomorrow only if . . . We strive to be sincere . . . And if by acts of charity . . . We make our meaning clear . . . Yes, some may live beyond their time . . . As God may kindly glance . . . And graciously He may decide . . . To give them one more chance . . . But by and large, that is too great . . . A risk for us to take . . . So let us live each new-born day . . . For His beloved sake.

Jurors Slate Traffic Count On Roadways

tacks against the News - Star-World.
Jurors said they were receiving numerous requests for road work from the two-mill tax passed April 7. Juror F. G. Studard quipped, "Gentlemen, this is election year, remember?"

REQUESTS
Because of pressure for blacktopping, requests that the Morning World withhold the list of 24 roads were sounded.

Here is the list:
Ward 1, Raymond Drive, Finks Highway Road; Ward 2, Stubbs-Vinson Road, Huenefeld Road; Ward 3, Moore and Gourd Bayou Road, Burg Jones Extension, Garrett Road; Ward 4, Forrest Home Road.

Ward 5, Walls-Williams Road, Restful Homes Road; Ward 6, Dean Chapel, Brownlee Road, Garland Gin Road; Ward 7, Caples Road, Cadville Cut-Off Road; Ward 8, Caples Road, Red Cut-Off Road; Ward 9, Pinebluff Road; Ward 10, Glenwood Drive and Lemie Lane.

In an interview after the session, Pettit explained that the Police Jury could receive state funds "right now" funds that are normally spent in individual wards that could be used to launch the blacktopping program.

"That's why we need to get started now with the good road season just ahead," Pettit explained.

It was pointed out that funds from the tax election would not be available until next December. Pettit said the state money could enable the Police Jury to do blacktopping this summer.

"Then we could get our tax money in December," he explained.

The 24 roads listed by Wells covers 40 miles, but Pettit said it would take two years for completion.

Jurors generally agreed that Blands Avenue in Monroe should be blacktopped this summer. It was brought to the jury's attention by jurors L. U. Fourmy, A. E. Montgomery and Irvin W. Kilpatrick.

Fourmy explained that Blands, although a through street, ends at Ouachita Parish High School, where he said it could be opened. "At present, dust from gravel on the street blows all over Ouachita Parish High School," he said. "We were promised that it would be blacktopped last summer."

juror Hilton Owens said, "We've already had every road in the parish checked for traffic." Meanwhile, Pettit was pointing to gravel roads as "the thing that's breaking the Police Jury's back." "My roads have never been sealed in Ward 8," said juror Red Sims. Juror Robert W. Irby presented a petition with 30 - odd signatures requesting that Buckhorn Bend Road be blacktopped. No action was taken. In the midst of discussion about the tax election and the blacktop program, A. E. Montgomery observed, "If it hadn't been for Monroe the tax would have been defeated."

to be blacktopped under the recent tax passed by the voters of Ouachita Parish. The people of Ouachita Parish were promised that every cent of this tax money would be made to count. This meeting is in line with that promise. The Police Jury represents the people of Ouachita Parish and must consider the interests of all of them and not a preferred few, who find fault but offer no constructive help.

"This method of calling this special meeting was the same used in the past, and nothing was said about it until now." "All of the present members of the Police Jury come up for election this year. Any or all can be replaced, if the majority of the voters desire it. A public official must use his own judgement, and, if wrong, can be voted out by the people."

The meeting ended in an impasse after three hours as the union officials, headed by W. A. Boyle, Washington, assistant to UMW President John L. Lewis, charged neither the 26 mine operators attending nor the governor's representatives "wanted to talk contract."

The UMW officials stood firm on the union's renunciation of a 13-point "peace pact" adopted April 11, charging the mine operators signed the agreement in "bad faith."

Attorneys for the operators claimed that when the subject of a new contract was brought up, Boyle and Carson Hibbits, Norton, Va., president of UMW Districts 28 and 30, "denounced the rights of attorneys for the coal operators to discuss or negotiate any contract."

Boy, 14, Injured In Traffic Mishap

A 14-year-old Monroe boy was cut on the leg when a car hit his bicycle about 4:50 p.m. yesterday at 1705 S. Grand St.

Police said the youth rode from a driveway at the address into the street without stopping. The car was headed north.

Officers identified the driver of the car as Lloyd A. Webb, 30, of 876 Saxon St., Memphis, Tenn.

The youth is John Joseph Boyd, of 1305 McGuire St., Monroe. The youth was hospitalized at the Wright-Bendel Clinic.

miles west of Panama City, with a group of other rebels bent on overturning the De la Guardia government.

Dame Margot was ordered to leave Panama Wednesday, after being held incommunicado in the "presidential suite" of the city jail here on suspicion of complicity in the revolt plot.

De la Guardia said she was released and permitted to go abroad because there was no proof at the time that she was involved in the rebellion. "But now we have the proof," the president said.

He explained that correspondence found in baggage Arias abandoned at a Santa Clara beach cottage when he fled just a step ahead of pursuing national guard troops, definitely linked the dancer in Arias' plot to overthrow the government by force.

Envoys Plan Strategy For Berlin Talks

cluded its work yesterday." High officials reported that the Western Allies have reached firm agreement on a set of specific counterproposals on Berlin to be presented to Russia at the Geneva meeting.

They said the four-power working group also had recommended that the Western powers give Russia a "set of principles" to be used in drafting an eventual German peace treaty.

This meant the United States was overruled in its suggestion that the Western powers hand Russia a specific draft treaty instead of general recommendations.

Mrs. Justice, 99, Dies; Rites Set

City Courts

MONROE
Two persons were fined in Monroe City Court yesterday on theft convictions, but the sentence against one of them was suspended.

Court records identified the two as Tony Platter, Room 16, Teresa Hotel who was fined $100 or 100 days.

A $50 fine against Paul Trichel 24, of 606 S. 3rd St., was suspended.

In other court action yesterday 14 persons forfeited bonds or were fined on traffic violations and drunkenness charges.

Four cases of reckless driving completed on Wednesday's docket since that time brought $400 fines in each case.

Records identified the four as S. A. Roach, 45, of 1902 College Ave.; Harry Rogers, 225 E. 67th St., Shreveport; Elmer C. Slaughter, 61, of 1509 Spencer, Monroe; and John R. White, 32, of P. O. Box 2836, Monroe.

The four were originally charged by city police on bookings of driving while under the influence of intoxicants but the court brought the fines on reduced charges of reckless driving.

WEST MONROE
Three fines were levied in West Monroe City Court yesterday with Judge Jasper E. Jones presiding.

Two persons were fined $25 and costs or 10 days on charges of reckless driving, and the third was fined the same amount on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Two persons forfeited bond. One forfeited $3 on a charge of running a stop sign, and the other forfeited $35 on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Recognition Goes To Navy Station

National recognition in the form of a "Navy Recruiting Station of the Month" certificate has been granted to the Monroe Navy Recruiting Station, according to Chief Petty Officer W. C. Choitz. Choitz, whose offices are at 201 Jackson St., added "although this Station of the Month" certificate was presented to the Navy recruiters in Monroe, it is actually reflective of the cooperation and civic spirit of local citizens in helping us to make the opportunities of naval service known to young men. Without this assistance, we could never have achieved our enviable results."

W. S. Sheppert Services Set Today At 3 p.m.

Final rites for William S. Sheppert Sr., 71-year-old retired city electrician, will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. at Peters Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Henry Trull officiating.

Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery by Peters.

Mr. Sheppert died Thursday at his home after a long illness. He worked for the city 32 years. He was a native of Clinton, Miss., and had lived here 33 years.

Surviving are his widow, Monroe; two daughters, Mrs. C. B. McMahan, Monroe, and Mrs. Alden Porter, Detroit, Mich.; two sons, Louis and W. S. Jr., both of Monroe; a sister, Mrs. William Snow, McGeehe, Ark.; seven grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Pallbearers will be Ed Smith, Dave Rogers, Frank Roddy, George Van Zile, George Smith and Elmer Vaughn.

Program Is Set For Improving Of Mail Boxes

"Keep rural mail in good condition, from the time it is placed in the mailbox until the addressee receives it, by keeping mail boxes in good shape."

That's the theme of the Annual Mail Box Improvement program, scheduled for May 18-23 by Monroe Postmaster Woodrow W. Hathorn.

Boxes on rural and mounted routes, and star routes with collection and delivery service, should be repaired, replaced or painted by that week.

"Boxes improperly erected or in unserviceable condition slow up mail delivery and expose the letters and papers to the weather Hathorn warned.

He urged that box owners paint their names on the side of the box which the carrier sees as he drives up—or on the front door of the box if several boxes are grouped together.

"Postal regulations state that the boxes must be on the right-hand side of the road, according to the direction the carrier takes," he stressed.

Boxes should be located at the curb or road line, erected so the bottom of the box is 3½ to 4 feet above the road. Boxes and supports should be kept painted, postal officials mentioned.

PLUM STREET

Cafeteria Additions At School Approved

Cafeteria additions for the Plum Street School were approved here yesterday, but the City School Board rejected bids for the renovation of the Lexington School kitchen.

Only two bids were received on the Lexington School project and the School Board voted for rejection. Lowest base bid was for $16,612.

"That's more money than we had planned to spend on the project," Tom H. Scott, board president, said.

Later he explained that the School Board may decide to build a new kitchen rather than renovating the present one, explaining, "Since it would cost more than we want to spend on the renovation, it may be best to build a completely new one."

Hughes Construction Co. was the lowest of eight bidders on the Plum Street School project, which calls for 2300-sq.-ft. combined cafeteria-kitchen addition.

At present, Plum Street students use the auditorium as a cafeteria, one board member explained.

Hughes submitted a base bid of $23,500. Also included in the bid was $985 for a compressor and mechanical refrigeration area and $350 for an acoustile ceiling.

Johns-Neel have been employed as architects for the project.

The meeting held yesterday afternoon in Supt. Van Odom's office was a continuation of the regular monthly session conducted April 7.

PRICES

Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel Corp., defended the steel industry's profit margin and blamed its price increases on steadily increasing wages. Blough testified before the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee. The lively session saw Blough suggest, at one point, that subcommittee statistics on his company's profits, contained "distortions."

AT CIVIL RIGHTS HEARING

Solons Are Told Voters Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Mississippi Negroes Friday told a House Judiciary subcommittee of the inability of Negroes in that state to register as voters.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Barnes of Hattiesburg, said they had tried to register about four times a year since 1952 but never have been successful.

C. R. Darden, Meridian, Mississippi president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said that last Wednesday a bullet was fired into the house of Albert Jones, Negro. Meridian. Darden said Jones has been active in registering and voting.

The Mississippians testified after Alabama's attorney general, MacDonald Gallion, and his chief assistant opposed civil rights bills being considered by the committee.

Gallion said Alabamians have demonstrated time after time that they will not have school integration "forced down their throats." Federal legislation, he said, increases racial tension.

"If ever we needed a harmonious relationship of all the races, it is at the present time," Gallion said.

In response to questions Gallion discussed Alabama's laws relating to preserving voter registration records, he said that the only records which could be destroyed within 30 days were applications of would be voters who were not registered and who failed to file an appeal with the circuit court. He said he believed it would be to the state's advantage to have these records preserved.

Gallion said about 70,000 Alabama Negroes are registered voters and that this represents a large increase in recent years.

"We have done so in the past and it is our intention to do so in the future," he said.

Clarence Mitchell, Washington official of the NAACP, challenged some of Gallion's statements. He contended the purpose of a new Alabama law covering registration records "is to destroy evidence before the federal government gets into a case."

Barnes told the committee that he sought to register as a voter last year after a new clerk was elected and was told to come back later. He tried last March 7 and was told by a deputy clerk he would have to see the clerk.

He said last October he and Clyde Kennard tried to register and were asked if they belonged to the NAACP.

"I asked the clerk if he had any reason for refusing to let us register," Barnes said. "he said 'no.' Each time he did not ask us for any qualifications or present us with any blanks, he just says 'no' we could not register."

Darden said efforts have been made to intimidate him, that a cross was burned in his yard and that "threats have been made against me."

He said that there are in Mississippi over 494,000 Negroes of color.

voting age but that only 22,308 were registered as of Aug. 1, 1954. The number now is estimated at about 25,000 he said.

There are 11 counties where no Negroes are registered and in some of these counties the Negroes constitute 69 and 70 per cent of the population, he said.

Mississippi, he said, requires persons seeking to register to interpret sections of the state constitution and to write an essay on duties and obligations of citizens.

"The requirement to interpret any section of the Mississippi constitution to the satisfaction of the circuit clerk cannot be met if the clerk does not want to be satisfied," he said.

Fond Farewell For Pickled Pig

Clad in black mourning clothes, students in Brighton, England, bow heads during memorial service for "Grover the wine swine." Grover, a pig, got pickled on home made wine and staggered into a well and drowned. Listeners of a San Antonio, Texas, radio station displayed sympathy for the well-soaked sow and sent a memorial stone to England. It was dedicated at the graveside ceremony, preceded by funeral procession through Brighton. (AP Wirephoto)

Jail Sentence Is Completed By Rappelet

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — State Sen. A. O. Rappelet completed his five-day jail sentence for duck hunting violations Friday and charged he was "framed" by "local scheming political opponents." Rappelet went into parish prison Monday after pleading guilty to a charge of possessing 20 ducks over the legal limit when arrested Jan. 24 by U.S. game manager agent Fred A. Williams. Because of a heart condition, Rappelet was allowed to serve his term in the prison infirmary. He received credit for a full day Monday although he entered the jail late in the day and also credit for a full day Friday although he was allowed to leave at 9 a.m. He claimed he did not intentionally violate the law and contended "there is no moral turpitude or any moral wrong in the offense in which I was accused." He said he hoped his political opponents had derived satisfaction "from this episode" they went to pains to achieve and accomplished their "vicious and unworthy purpose." He also said he had no intention of resigning as chairman of the Senate Wildlife and Fisheries Committee.

Souchak Increases Lead In Tourney Of Champions

By BOB MYERS
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Mike Souchak fired his second sub-par round of golf Friday, a 2-under-par 70, to stretch his lead to 4 strokes at the midway mark of the $46,200 Tournament of Champions.

Husky Mike, one of the only five professionals to master par on a blustery but warm afternoon, toured the Desert Inn Country Club's 7,073-yard, par 36-36-72 course in 35-35-70.

It gave him a commanding 36-hole score of 136.

Deadlocked at 140 were Art Wall Jr., whose 68 was the low

Braves Outslug Cincinnati, 10-7

CINCINNATI (AP) — Eddie Mathews banged his fifth grand slam homer as a major leaguer, plus another home run, as the Milwaukee Braves took a slug-ging match from Cincinnati 10-7 Friday night.

The Reds, who have averaged seven runs a game, but have won only three of their last eight, kept the issue in doubt throughout, but Mathews circuit smash with the bases loaded was the clincher for the Braves.

Tribe Scores Two In 8th To Whip Chisox

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians scored two unearned runs in the eighth inning Friday night to defeat the Chicago White Sox 6-4 in the opening game of a four-game series at Municipal Stadium.

A crowd of 28,498, the largest April night game attendance in Cleveland history, saw the Indians win their 10th game in 11 starts this season.

The victory went to Humberto Robinson, making his first appearance for the Tribe. He entered the game in the eighth inning with the score tied 4-4 and was the fourth hurler sent to the mound by Manager Joe Gordon. Gerry Staley, the third of five Chicago pitchers, was the loser.

Vic Power led off in the Tribe half of the eighth by beating out a slow roller in front of the plate. Minnie Minoso went to second, Rocky Colavito was given an intentional pass to load the bases. Rodolfo Arias replaced Staley and then Power scored and the other runners advanced on a passed ball. Minoso scored on a sacrifice fly by Woodie Held after pinch hitter Jim Bokser had struck out and George Strickland walked.

Southpaw Herb Score, trying for his second victory, started for the Indians but lasted only three innings. He was lifted for a pinch hitter with the White Sox leading 3-0 after walking seven batters and giving up only one hit—a homer to Ray Boone. Score had walked only six in 18 innings prior to this game.

Dick Donovan, Chicago right-hander, fared a little better in quest of his second victory, but was removed in the seventh inning after the Indians had loaded the bases.

Chicago scored twice in the first when Score walked the first four batters he faced and Nelson Fox came home on a sacrifice fly by Boone.

Boone hit his first home run of the season in the third to give the White Sox a 3-0 lead.

The Indians got their first run in the fifth on a lead off triple by Russ Nixon, who scored on an infield out.

The Sox added a run in the sixth when Jim Rivera led off with a walk, stole second and scored on Donovan's single.

Cleveland tied it with three in the seventh. Minoso led off with a single, went to second when Colavito was hit by a pitch and scored on a single by Nixon. Strickland bunted to the mound and Colavito was forced at third. Pinch hitter Hal Naragon was re-tired but Tito Francona hit a pinch single, scoring Nixon and Strickland.

Tigers Suffer Tenth Defeat By 10-1 Count

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Detroit Tigers went down the dreary road to their 10th defeat in 11 starts Friday night while Bob Cerv led a robust batting attack that gave the Kansas City Athletics a 10-1 victory.

Cerv belted three hits, one a double and drove in three runs while young Ralph Terry was notching his first pitching victory of the year. He allowed only eight hits but was troubled in the early innings by wildness. He walked three in the first inning.

The Athletics teed off on Billy Hoelt, who won Detroit's only game this season, in the fourth inning. When he left for the show-ers, the A's had rattled off four consecutive hits and the tying run had crossed the plate. Dick Williams started the rally with a double.

for the day; Julius Boros with a 70, John McMullin, 72, and Ernie Vossler, 71.

Alone at 142 was long hitting George Bayer with a 70, while Gene Littler, three times winner and the pre-tournament favorite, shot a 72 for a tie at 143 with Arnold Palmer, who had a 73.

Souchak started the round with a two-stroke lead over McMullin off Mike's sensational 66 yesterday, while Vossler and Peter Cooper were tied at 69. Cooper fell far back with a 77 for 146.

National Open champion Tommy Bolt rated 23rd in the field of 26, with a 76 for 151. Last year's winner, Stan Leonard, had a 73 and was tied at 144 with Paul Harney and Doug Sanders, who also shot 73s.

Souchak, who soared to an 84 on a windy day here four years ago, bagged four birdies. His longest putt was 15 feet, another traveled seven, and the other two were four feet or less. He thre-putted one green and bogeyed the 18th when he hit into a water hazard. He almost pulled himself even with par on the last green, however, when his 25-foot putt missed by inches.

Wall, the new Masters champion, turned in perhaps the most spectacular shot of the day. His ball was on the apron of the seventh hole. He changed clubs from a putter to a seven iron, then to an eight iron, and finally shot with a wedge. The ball arched 25 feet for a birdie two.

Cary Middlecoff, always a strong contender, had a 73 and was tied at 145 with Billy Maxwell and Wes Ellis. Ken Venturi with a 75 was tied at 146 with Cooper and Bob Goalby.

Wertz Leads Bosox Over Senators, 7-2

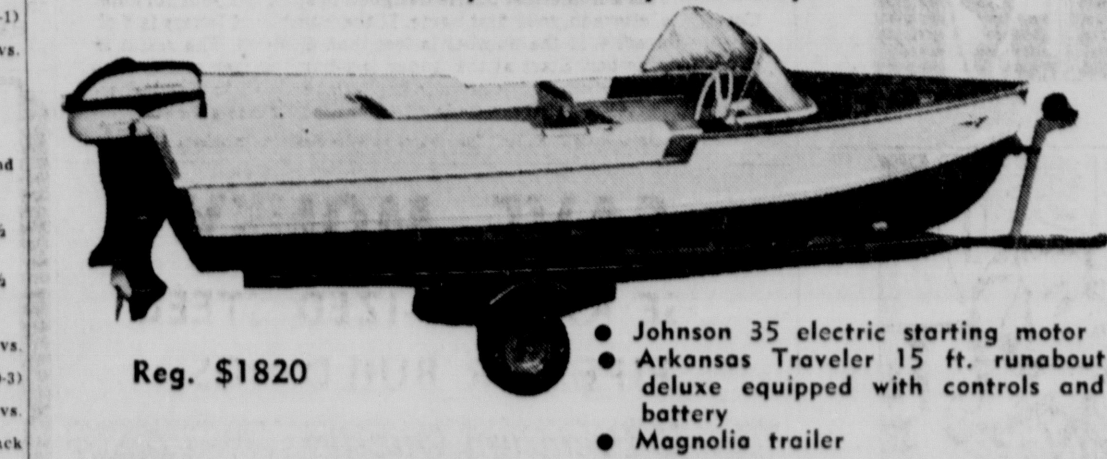

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vic Wertz drove in five runs with a double and a homer Friday night as he led the Boston Red Sox to a 7-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

Ike Delock, pitching a six-hitter, whipped Washington for the second time this season and the eighth straight time since May 12, 1957.

Vito Valentineti, Senators' starting pitcher, was chased in a five-run third inning and was charged with the defeat. In the first inning, he served up a single to Don Buddin and a walk to Gene Stephens before Wertz ripped him for a two-run double to left.

In the third Valentineti pitched himself into trouble by walking Buddin and Runnels. Stephens doubled home Buddin and rookie Jack Kralick replaced Valentineti. Wertz greeted the left-hander with his second homer of the season, a three-run shot over the right field wall. Jackie Jensen fol-

RETAINS WELTER TITLE

Jordan Rallies Viciously To Decision Virgil Akins

By JERRY LISK
ST. LOUIS (AP)—World welter-weight champion Don Jordan, stunned in the second round, rallied viciously to score a unanimous 15-round decision over ex-champ Virgil Akins and retain his title in a bruising rematch Friday night.

Akins, disappointing a home crowd, twice buckled Jordan's knees in the second round and then succumbed to the swift attack of the youthful Los Angeles champion, making his first title defense.

A Kiel Auditorium crowd booed lustily at the finish of the match which had marked similarity to the Dec. 5 match in Los Angeles when Jordan dethroned Akins over the 15-round route.

Referee Harry Kessler called it the closest, voting for the 24-year-old Jordan, 70-68, under the five-point must scoring system. Judge Fred Connell called it for Jordan 70-66 and Judge Howard Hess voted for the champ 71-68. The AP card had Jordan winning 71-65.

Akins started as though he meant to make short work of the agile Jordan. He banged away with sizzling body shots in the first round.

Then, in the second, Akins exploded a right to the chin which buckled Jordan's knees. With the crowd roaring in anticipation of a knockout, Akins whistled another right to the chin which shook the champion.

Akins continued his furious attack in the third round, but then slowly ran out of gas.

Jordan, bleeding at the nose as the third round ended, began to bang away with accurate left-right combinations.

The pace had slowed both fighters considerably by the fifth, but the younger Jordan had much more stamina than the 31-year-old Akins.

By the seventh round, Jordan was in command of the fight. He would lash away with a series of left jabs and then score with lusty left-right combinations. Akins began bleeding from the nose in this round.

In his dressing room, Jordan said he had fought with a badly bruised right hand after the second round. He was to be taken to a hospital for examination of the injury. Jordan said the injury stung him throughout the fight, but not enough to make him quit. Jordan continued to rattle Akins.

in the middle rounds of the rousing match.

In the eighth, Jordan's left-right combination staggered Akins and a moment later, the champ knocked Virgil's mouthpiece flying. The crowd began booing at Akins' inept attack.

Jordan slowed a bit in the ninth, but by that time his white trunks were stained red from Akins' bleeding nose.

In the 10th, Akins made his last good rally. He clubbed Jordan with rights to the head and sizzling combinations to the stomach. It was really his dying bid, although, Akins mauled and brawled in weary fashion the last few rounds, hoping to land a knockout punch.

By the 12th, the crowd was clapping in unison for action although Jordan still was operating efficiently with his stinging left jabs. Between the 12th and 13th, ice packs had to be applied to Akins' swollen right eye.

Akins rushed out like a bull to start the 14th, but had no steam to hurt Jordan. At the end of the round, Akins wrestled Jordan through the ropes and both landed on the apron with Jordan on the bottom.

Referee Kessler also got twisted in the ropes and nearly fell on top of the fighters.

The 15th round was an anti-climax, with Akins stumbling around like a man in a fog, holding on and punching aimlessly.

Jordan weighed 146½ and Akins

147.

This probably was the end of the big time for Akins, who had won the 147-pound crown by knocking out Vince Martinez last June. He has not fought a good fight since and seemingly has lost the knockout punch which made him a dangerous performer throughout his erratic career.

This bout had been twice postponed — first from March 6 because of a tornado which ripped the St. Louis Arena, and then from April 3 because of illness to Jordan's wife.

It was Jordan's 45th victory against 11 defeats and the 20th defeat against 49 victories and one draw for Akins.

Scholz To Meet Calzavara In Non-Title Bout

BERLIN (AP)—Gustav Scholz, Germany's European middle-weight champion, will meet Italy's Artinio Calzavara in a non-title bout in Berlin, May 9.

The 31-year-old Italian from Milan is an ex-European middle-weight champion who has lost all his fights since he won the title from German's Gerhard Hecht, July 1957.

Smoky's Rap Enables Bucs To Beat Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Smoky Burgess doubled home a pair of ninth inning runs enabling Pittsburgh to beat the Philadelphia Phillies 8-5 after the Pirates had blown an early four-run lead at Connie Mack Stadium Friday night.

Trading 3-4 as they came to bat in the ninth the Pirates scored four runs of relief pitchers Al Schroll and Dick Farrell.

Bill Virdon and Bob Clemente singled and Burgess rifled his two bagger off the right field wall. Dick Stuart then singled sending Dick Schofield, running for Burgess, to third. A sacrifice fly scored Schofield and a wild pitch and single by Bill Mazerowski scored Stuart.

Dubach Will Field Team In New Loop

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Ed Head, president of the new La-Ark. Baseball League, was advised yesterday that Dubach will apply for membership in the league, swelling the membership to six clubs.

Leonard Pratt, a league official, reported Harris Green of Dubach has advised the club there is all ready to go with uniforms, money in the bank, and an excellently lighted park for night ball.

Lane "Jelly" Norris will manage the Dubach club with Jess Moore aiding. Dubach is due to elect a board of directors today. Pratt said the league has been informed, and will send representatives to the May 3 league meeting in Bastrop.

Farmerville, Strong, Ark., and Lake Providence are considered best bets to supply two more clubs for an eight-team league.

Neville's husky footballer, Mickey Cox, won both the weight events, the discus and shot, while Gene Howard was one - tenth of a second faster than teammate Dooley Haddad in the 220, run in two heats.

Neville took the 440 and mile relays while Ouachita's team of Bobby Shipp, Jack Coleman, Wayne Shipp and Ervin Bates won the 880 relay.

Ronnie Woodward and Charles Parker won Ouachita it's other two victories, Woodward coming in first in the mile and Parker winning 880.

The 880 was the day's best race. Parker's teammate, Bobby Bryant, led practically all the way before Parker caught him at the tape, winning by less than an inch.

Don Word collected two of Southside's firsts, taking the high and low hurdles. Oscar Mathews won the hop - step - jump for the other Pelican victory.

All winning performances in the meet, directed by Northeast coach Lew Hartzog and Lee Junior High mentor Van Leign, will go into the books and records. The meet is being planned as an annual affair.

Wiffi Smith Leads By 3 At Spartanburg

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — Stocky Wiffi Smith, sank five birdies, and shot a 68, four under men's par, Friday to take a 3-stroke lead in the first round of the $6,000 Peach Blossom-Betsy Rawls Golf Tournament.

Betsy, a Spartanburg girl who twice has won the tourney named for her, was in second place with a 71. Betsy was hampered by putting trouble.

Wiffi, a freckled-faced 22-year-old from St. Clair, Mich., equalled the record for a single round in this tournament with her 68. The record is 67, but it was set before the greens on the 6,330-yard Spartanburg Country Club course were made larger and harder to putt on.

OUACHITA HOSTS REBS TODAY

Byrdmen Pin 5-0
Defeat On Lions

By JIM CALHOUN
Staff Sports Writer

Byrd threw the District 1-AAA race into a three-way tie here Friday afternoon as respected right-hander Bill Rutledge blanked Ouachita on two hits, 5-0.

The loop race is now narrowed down to the final game, with Fair Park and West Monroe deadlocked at six wins and three defeats and one game remaining. Coach Dan McClure's West Monroe quint invades the Lion diamond at four o'clock this afternoon for a crucial finale, while Byrd takes on Bossier City and Fair Park meets Bastrop in Monday action.

Rutledge kept the Lions in check throughout the contest, striking out ten while allowing only one base on balls. The hosts threatened seriously once, in the fourth, but the steady right-hander pitched his way out.

John Talley, lanky Ouachita right-hander, limited the Yellow Jackets to seven hits, but four Lion errors paved the way for three unearned runs.

Carpenter To
Green Bay In Pro Grid Deal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill Howton, veteran Green Bay Packers' end, went to the Cleveland Browns Friday in a trade for defensive end Bill Quinlan and of offensive halfback Lew Carpenter.

Coach Paul Brown of Cleveland and General Manager Vince Lombardi of Green Bay worked out the deal here following a two-day special meeting of the National Football League owners.

"Howton is an experienced and fast end—a quality football player who should give us the kind of help we need at offensive end," Brown said.

The retirement of Pete Brewster after seven seasons with the Browns left the club hurting for an offensive end.

Howton, 28, and a veteran of seven seasons with Green Bay after college football at Rice, has been an outstanding receiver. He has caught 303 passes for 5,581 yards and 43 touchdowns during his time with Green Bay.

Quinlan, who will be 27 in June, has been a regular defensive end for Cleveland for two years. After Michigan State, Quinlan spent a year playing football in the Canada and then went into military service.

Carpenter, 26, was acquired from the Detroit Lions in a trade two years ago for Roger Zatkoff. He was Cleveland's second biggest ground gainer in 1957, back of fullback Jimmy Brown, and rated third last season. In 1958, however, Bobby Mitchell crowded Lew out of most of the action in the first seven games, but Carpenter was installed as regular left halfback for the last five weeks.

Nicklaus,
Andrews In
Golf Finals

By KEN ALYTA

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus out-scrambled Bob Cochran, 2-up, and genial Gene Andrews out-steadied Jack Penrose 3-2 Friday to win their North and South Amateur Golf Tournament semifinals matches.

They meet for the title over 36 holes Saturday.

Nicklaus, 19-year-old member of the U. S. Walker Cup team from Columbus, Ohio, battled a hook in the early stages, but compensated with some skillful putting to save several holes. He finally went ahead to stay by winning the 12th and 13th holes.

Cochran, 46-year-old St. Louis paper company salesman, carried him to the last hole, which Jack won with a par four.

Andrews, 45, a first-time starter here, from Pacific Palisades, Calif., was off and running in a hurry against fellow insurance man Penrose, 44, from Miami, Fla.

Andrews grabbed the first two holes and won three more to turn 5 up without the loss of a hole. Penrose finally broke the ice, winning three holes on the back nine, but the rally was too late. It was the second year in a row he lost in the semifinals.

Maryland Line
Coach Resigns

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Jack Hennemier, who as line coach helped develop the University of Maryland into a football power, announced Friday he was quitting the game.

Hennemier, who coached since his graduation from Duke in 1936, said he had accepted a job as administrative officer with an engineering and surveying firm in nearby Hyattsville, Md.

His career included six years as line coach under Jim Tatum at Maryland. He left after the 1954 season to become head coach of the Calgary Stampede in Canada but returned after a year and a half.

MALVIN SISTRUNK

Mal Sistrunk
New Assistant
At Coushatta

PINEVILLE, La. (Special) — Malvin E. Sistrunk, one of Louisiana College's finest football coaches of recent years and a member of the 1959 graduating class, has accepted a position as assistant coach at Coushatta High School.

The genial 210 - pounder, who starred on Wildcat eleven of 1956-57-58, will mentor the Coushatta line under new head coach Clyde Berry.

Young Sistrunk, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sistrunk of Route 4, Rayville, was one of Holly Ridge High School's all - time athletic greats during the four - year span of 1951-54. During that time, he won 16 athletic letters, including four each in football, basketball.

He was an All-State Class B tackle at Holly Ridge in 1955.

At Louisiana College, he played under two gridiron coaches. Les DeVall, now head mentor at McNeese State, in 1956, and under J. W. Patrick the other two seasons. Last year's Feline eleven was probably the school's greatest, winning nine of 11 tilts. Mal was a starting tackle and an inspiring leading on all those "Cat aggregations."

He is a candidate for a degree at L. C. this spring. His major is physical education and his minor is social studies. He will report for his new Coushatta duties in the fall.

Bastrop Falls
To No-Hitter
By Upshaw

BASTROP, La. (Special) —Cecil Upshaw, Bossier City's slender right-handed fireballer, pitched a no - hit, no - run game here this afternoon as the Bearcats edged Bastrop in the final inning, 2-0.

Upshaw, who hurled his team to the national Teener League championship last season, sent nine Rams down on strikes and walked six enroute to his brilliant mound performance.

The Bearcats could manage only five hits of Bastrop's Floyd Murray and finally broke the pitching duel with two runs in the seventh.

David McGowan started the winning rally with a base on balls. Eddie Braswell singled him to second and both runners moved up on a passed ball. Murray uncorked a wild pitch and McGowan romped across with the first score.

After Terry Everett popped up to first, Clifford Rowe drove a long fly to right field and Braswell scored after the catch.

Bastrop meets Fair Park here Monday in the final District 1-AAA game of the season for both clubs.

EIGHT SCHOOLS ENTERED

Northeast To Compete In
LSU Invitational Today

Northeast engages in its fourth track carnival of the year today at Baton Rouge where Lew Hartzog's Indians are expected to furnish host LSU with its top competition in the second annual LSU Invitational Track Meet.

Eight Louisiana schools are entered in the affair, expected to attract around 7,000. Besides LSU and Northeast, Louisiana Tech, Tulane, Loyola of New Orleans, Northwestern, Southeastern and Southwestern are entered.

In its relay appearances so far this season, Northeast has finished no worse than fourth, winning the college division of the Southwest Recreation Meet in Fort Worth and finishing fourth in the Florida and SLI Relays.

In their last appearance, Northeast won the 440, 880 and mile relays at SLI and Dave Styron was acclaimed "Most Outstanding Track Man."

"LSU will be heavily - favored to win the team trophy, Saturday," said Hartzog, adding, "however, we should help them furnish the expected overflow - crowd with some real thrillers."

Northeast entries expected to have a good shot at wins are the 440 - yard relay team of Dave Styron, Roger Beumer, Don Reynolds and Don Styron; the mile relay team of Dave Styron, Jim Mouser, Dick Hays, and again, anchorman Don Styron; Dave Styron in the 100 and 220 - yard dashes; Don Styron in the 120 high hurdles and the 220 low hurdles; Dick Hays in the 440 - yard run; Buddy Eiland in the mile and 2 - mile; Jerry Ivy in the broad jump, and Robert McGough in the javelin.

Other Northeast competitors will include: Jim Mouser in the 440 yard run; Don Reynolds in the century and 220 - yard dash; Bob Jaenicke in the 880; Jerry Ivy in the 220 low hurdles; Bill Frye in the 2 - mile; Bill Broom and Bob Cook, both in the shot and discus; Dave Styron in the high jump, broad jump and pole vault, and Jerry Ivy, also in the broad jump.

Comparatively speaking, some of the stiffest competition should be in the 440 relay, 120 - yard high hurdles and the 100 - yard dash.

Northeast won the 440 relay at Lafayette and LSU placed third, but in the earlier encounter at Florida, the LSU team of Ralph Fabian, Ernie Wall, Dave Rickey and Billy Cannon was first and the Indians second.

Dickie Durham of LSU and Don Styron of Northeast came in one-and-two in the 120 - yard high hurdles during their first meeting and in the later meet at SLI, Styron was third behind Jim Sturdivant of Louisiana Tech in an event also won by Durham.

In both meetings, Dave Styron was edged by Billy Cannon in the 100 - yard dash. It was the second century of the day for Styron who also ran a close second to Bobby Morrow, co - holder of the world's record, in a special event.

Mrs. Porter Lee Is Hostess To HD Club

The Crepe Myrtle HD Club met in the home of the hostess, Mrs. Porter S. Lee at Alsatia Community, with the president, Mrs. Frank D. Goulette conducting a brief business session.

National HD Week, was announced as beginning with the week May 3rd, and the club decided to place flowers in the churches of the community. Several members also agreed to make dresses to enter in the parish dress revue to be held on May 7th. The club voted to assist in the preparation of the HD Council float to be entered in the parade of the Miss Louisiana Pageant to be held at Lake Providence in July.

Mrs. T. K. Bradley, consumer education leader, discussed some general rules to follow when buying furniture, and stated that one could not judge furniture on "face value." Mrs. E. V. Parker, housing leader, discussed the important factors that should be considered when building storage space in the family room.

Miss Eunyce Howard, HD agent informed on "Emergency Feeding of Infants," and listed a number of foods that may be included on the pantry shelf in case of emergency with reference to the national defense program. She also gave a demonstration on the grading of eggs.

The hostess served refreshments to Mesdames Frank Goulette, Bradley, C. O. Beck, U. L. Barrow, Parker and to Miss Eunyce Howard of Lake Providence.

Poplar HDC Meets With Mrs. Smith

The Poplar HD Club met in the home of Mrs. W. H. Smith with the following members present: Mesdames Herman Ragus, Wallace Oliver, L. Tingley, Jack Hamilton, Bill Wyle, James Smith and Miss Eunyce Howard, HD agent. Guests were Mrs. W. J. Erwin, Sam Batton and Mrs. Henry Winters, who came in during the social hour.

At the business session, the club voted to honor the teachers at Transylvania with a tea on May 4th at Mrs. James Smith's home. They also discussed the entering of a float in the parade during the Miss Louisiana Pageant to be held at Lake Providence in July, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. National HD Week was announced to be the week of May 3rd through May 9th, and the club decided to place flowers in churches during this period. Several of the members agreed to enter dresses in the parish Dress Revue to be staged May 7th.

Mrs. Herman Ragus, housing leader, informed on helpful hints to be considered when building storage space in the family room. The home management leader, Mrs. Bill Wyle, discussed proper storage of garments, and the use of insecticides in the prevention of insects. Mrs. Jack Hamilton gave helpful information on the subject of nutrition.

Miss Eunyce Howard, HD Agent presented a demonstration and material on the "Emergency Feeding of Infants." She also gave suggestions as to the foods to be included on the emergency pantry shelf, and she gave possible reasons why children refused to eat, stressing ways of preventing problems.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the members and guests.

When substituting all-purpose flour for cake flour, use two tablespoons less per cup for flour called for.

Elmwood HDC Has Meeting This Week

The Elmwood HD Club met for its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Glen Wiggins at Elmwood Community. Mrs. F. E. Bell, the president, presided during the afternoon.

The parish Dress Revue scheduled for May 7th was discussed. The members voted to place flowers in the churches of the community during National HD Week, beginning May 3rd and ending May 9th. A discussion also arose on the possibility of obtaining new members for the club and the members agreed to visit non-members for this purpose.

For the program, Miss Eunyce Howard, HD Agent gave a demonstration and talk on "Emergency Feeding of Infants," giving a list of foods to include on the emergency pantry shelf. She discussed "Children and the Meal-Time Hour" bringing out the importance of training the appetite and ways of preventing problems. She also demonstrated the grading of eggs.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mesdames F. E. Bell, Hardy Patrick, Carl French, John McWiggins, and to Miss Eunyce Howard, of Lake Providence.

Junior MYF Of Farmerville At Banquet Friday

The Junior MYF of the Farmerville Methodist Church was entertained with a banquet at the church on Friday evening.

The banquet table was beautifully decorated with ivy, candles and dainty arrangements of pastel spring flowers. The place cards were miniature umbrellas harmonizing with the flower decorations. A delicious meal and an evening of fun was enjoyed by the following members and guests: Butch Spencer, Richard Kent Albritton, Linda Reid, Jimmy Wade, Jeff Elliott, Jimmy Carol Wiley, Roger Harris, Pam Schon, Linda Lee, Johnette Edwards, Peggy Grier, Joey Hall, Meggie Baughman, Gary Wade, Jimmy Miller, Mary Beth Roberts, David Preaus, Marilyn Post, John Steven Preaus, Brenda Carol Davison, Larry White, Sharon Brantley, Jane Downs, Steven Kelley, Buddy Camors, Mary Ann Eldred, Babs Miller, Patsey Odom, Keith Guier and Bettye Hicks. Rev. and Mrs. Rupert Coles and sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harris, and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Downs.

Hold Initiation Of Delta Kappa Gamma Society

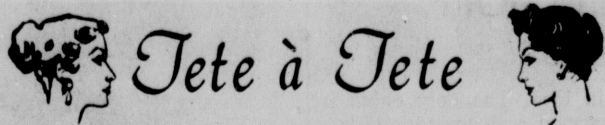

The initiation of three new members in an impressive candlelight ceremony was the feature of the April meeting of the Jonesville Alpha Iota chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma society. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Lodi Pierce with Mrs. Eula Pullen as co-hostess.

Mrs. Gene Boyd, Mrs. Marvyn Paul and Miss Lurline Norris were initiated in the ritual conducted by Miss Hazel Crawford, Mrs. Thelma Girlinghouse and Mrs. Gladys Drane.

After the ceremony plans were then made for the annual picnic and Founders' Day program to be held in May.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Pierce and Mrs. Pullen to the following Mesdames Pauline Parker, Lessie Crawford, Audrey Gibson, Frances Taliaferro, Bernice Beard, Edith Davis, Gladys Drane, Girlinghouse, Gene Boyd, Paul, Misses Norris, Crawford and Emily Coney.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MRS. E. L. COLVIN and Mrs. Sam Donald have returned from a pleasant week's stay at Hot Wells, Louisiana.

2ND LIEUTENANT and Mrs. Donald G. Fordham are now in Dayton, Ohio, at the Wright-Patterson Field. Lt. Fordham, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fordham of Monroe, is in research and development there. Another son, Sammy is located in Houston.

MISS CHARLOTTE BRUSCATO arrived Tuesday from New Orleans for a month's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bruscatto. Miss Bruscatto will soon be a senior at Touro Infirmary School of Nursing.

MR. AND MRS. LEALIS HALE are leaving this weekend for Clarendon, Arkansas to attend the wedding of Mr. Hale's sister, Mrs. Harriet Menard.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD LEE DAVIS JR. and son will join Mrs. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cobb in Baton Rouge and they will go to Grand Isle for the weekend.

Woman's Club Meets In Home Of Mrs. Howard

The Carroll Woman's Club met in the home of Mrs. R. Howard and Miss Eunyce Howard in Lake Providence, who served as co-hostesses with Mrs. Eloise Edwards.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. E. H. Ragus past-president, presided and Mrs. H. T. Van Fossen acted as secretary for Mrs. Ragus.

Miss Eunyce Howard, HD Agent who served as chairman of the Nominating Committee presented the names for the 1959-60 officers. Those listed were: Mrs. Van Beasey, president; Mrs. Ragus, 1st vice-president; Mrs. D. F. Davis, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. H. T. Van Fossen, secretary; Miss Elizabeth Cammack, treasurer; Miss Eunyce Howard, reporter; Mrs. R. S. Reed, parliamentarian, and Mrs. George York, chaplain. These proposed officers were unanimously elected and are scheduled to be installed at the next meeting to be held in May where a pot-luck supper will be served. The hostesses for this supper include Mesdames Grady Wyle, M. M. Walsworth, Sam K. Mitchiner and H. L. Van Falkenburg.

Miss Howard gave interesting information concerning the two National Weeks celebrated during the month — National Library and National Home Economics Week.

The club agreed to have as its major objective, increased membership, and also voted to amend the constitution and by-laws at the next meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames C. R. Brown, W. B. R. Mitchell, W. H. Maben, J. E. Peeler, Ragus, R. S. Reed, T. J. Slagle, Van Fossen, Grady Wyle, Van Valkenburg and Miss Cammack.

Simple Remedy For Removal Of Nail Polish

Use of nail polish remover on rugs and carpets can be disastrous to some of the new synthetic fibers now in use, according to the National Institute of Rug Cleaning.

Unfortunately, NIRC scientists say, many housewives assume that it is the logical thing to use for nail polish spills only to find that it leaves holes in their rugs. Some paint thinners have the same effect. To be safe, they say, neither should be used on any rug or carpet.

A simple, inexpensive remedy is amyl acetate which can be obtained at any drug store.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

New Babies Fragile, Consider Premature

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The brand new baby is somewhat terrifying to his new mother who feels that he is too fragile for handling, but this doesn't compare with how the mother of a premature feels. His care demands real courage.

Mrs. R.D. writes, "Dear Mrs. Eldred: I don't know if this is anything you'll want to print but I know when I was going through it I would have appreciated anything written on the subject."

"One year ago this month I gave birth to a three pound, four ounce girl. She was given about a ten per cent chance to live and I feel now that I owe her life to the 'rocky bed' in which she was placed immediately, the excellent and loving care she received, and my determination.

She stayed in the hospital two months until she weighed five pounds. And then we brought her home. She had gone down to two pounds before she started to gain.

No Literature

"Anxious as I was to have her home, and despite the fact that she was my fourth child, I never had anyone in my arms who was so small and delicate. I searched for literature on the subject of the premature and got one booklet which wasn't much help.

"The day I brought her home she defied waking and slept through two feedings. But then she ate like a little horse. She gained as much as two pounds a week.

"I found that in development she was about two months behind the average, full-term baby. She did not sit alone until her eighth month. She is now one year, walking all around holding onto objects and weighs 18 pounds. "Her head was terribly misshapen when she was born but when she could turn her head and roll over, it began to round out and now is beautifully shaped.

Need Patience

"Anyone with a premature needs lots of patience, but with the aid of a good doctor these babies really are no more trouble than full-term babies. I have heard all kinds of things — that her teeth will be soft, for instance — and what may happen in the future, but her present teeth look fine and she is as bright as a dollar. We truly find she is a special gift from God."

I certainly would not look forward to any misfortunes because of her prematurity. Sometimes it takes about five years for the "preemie" to catch up to the full term child, but she seems to have made great headway in a year. I hope this letter is an encouragement to all parents of such frail infants.

If you would like to have our 10-cent booklet "The First Six Months" send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Tea Honors Miss Cotton Sunday P.M.

A lovely tea at 2606 Lexington, Monroe, was given for Miss Joe Ann Cotton by Mrs. Inas H. Gwin, Mrs. William O. Hixon, Mrs. Irene H. Johnston, Mrs. Walter H. Hixon and Mrs. F. T. Peters on Sunday the 19th between the hours of three and five.

Mrs. Billie Joe Laird greeted the guests at the door, and in the receiving line were the honoree and the hostesses, and Mrs. Wade A. Cotton.

The home was decorated with English dogwood, iris, sweet peas, roses and Buford holly.

White stock and iris and English dogwood with maiden-hair fern were on the tea table, as well as a punch bowl and twin heart cakes.

Miss Cotton's engagement was announced at this time.

Mrs. Culbert Lee and Mrs. Wayne Huckaby poured. Miss Sherree Harriet and Miss Mary Katherine Walker were at the Bride's Book.

The honor guest wore a pale green lace dress with organza overskirt and a corsage of baby orchids.

Enterprise Has Annual Banquet For Parents

The Seventh Annual Mother-Daughter and Father-Son banquet of the Enterprise High school was held in the new gym.

Sharon McGuffee, FFA president, and David Ainsworth, FFA president, acted as joint Master of Ceremonies. Darryl McGuffee, a tenth grade FFA member, gave the invocation after which a most delicious meal was served to about 110 FFA and FFA members and their parents and guests.

After the meal the following program was given. Welcome, FFA and FFA members; response, parents and guests; song, mother's quartet, composed of Mrs. Neva McGuffee, Mrs. A. J. Guyon, Mrs. Virgie Creel and accompanied by Sharon McGuffee; FFA poem, Luther Holloway; pantomime, D. H. Clark; and FFA poem by Charley Kyle.

York Sheppard, guest speaker, spoke to the group on the findings and recommendations for secondary schools as outlined by the Conant report.

At the conclusion of the program Linda Crawford showed the group films of last year's banquet and graduation.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Don't Punish Woman Because Of Her Son

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: Who started that jazz about people living together "for the sake of the children" when they'd rather be living with someone else?

I've been going with a fine gentleman for two years. We're very much in love. The only catch is, he's married and has four kids. When he and his wife married it was no love affair. He thought she was "nice" and she wanted to settle down and have a big family. (What could be diller?) Six months ago his wife found out about us and offered him a divorce. He refused because of the kids. He's very good to me financially and I know I'm the only woman he's ever loved. Why should WE suffer because of four kids his wife wanted? — P.X.

Dear P.X.: What do you mean by "WE"? I can't see that the gentleman is doing much suffering. He has a nice home, respectability, a wife and four children, plus a cozy arrangement with a girl friend on the side. Your romance has done the best selling job since Samuel Insull.

Any similarity between "love" and your commercial back-alley romance is purely miraculous. You're simply an expensive toy. Why don't you wake up?

Dear Ann Landers: I am a boy almost 12 years old. Pretty soon I will be a teenager. Most kids I know get an allowance. I don't get any. I have to ask my mother for every little penny.

Today I told my mother it would be better if she gave me $50 all at once to last me for the whole year. This would teach me how to control money and live on a budget. Mom said it was too much money for a person my age to have all at one time. I figure it comes to $1.05 a week.

Please be on my side. I think it would be good for Mom, too, because then I wouldn't be asking her for money all the time. — PENNILESS

Dear Penniless: I hope you're better at controlling money than you are at arithmetic. If not, you'll be broke all your life. Sonny, $1.05 a week is $54.60 a year. If you've never had an allowance I agree you should start soon on a weekly basis — no lump sum in advance. Temptation can be mighty great when you have lots of loot around.

Dear Ann Landers: I was married to an impossible man for five years. He wouldn't join A.A. He refused to see a marriage counselor. He said all clergymen were phonies and when I suggested he write to you he said anyone who couldn't solve their own problems was nuts.

Eighteen months ago I divorced him. The court battle was a bitter one and he did his best to blacken my name. The judge ruled our child was to spend the first six months of the year with him, the last six months with me. He has remarried and his present wife dislikes the child. He told me he must pass up his share of custody in order to keep peace with her. My former mother-in-law is a lovely woman and was always devoted to our little girl. Since her son has given up custody rights she hasn't seen the child because she doesn't want to "interfere".

Her daughter called me and said it was killing her. Shall I call my ex-mother-in-law and invite her to see the child whenever she wants to? Or, shall I cut clean all strings attaching me to my former husband? — B.W.D.

Dear B.W.D.: Your ex-mother-in-law is still the child's grandmother. Why punish the woman because her son is a heel? The moment you finish reading this go straight to the telephone and tell your ex-mother-in-law she can see the child whenever she wishes. You'll feel a lot better, and you'll gladden a heavy heart.

MORGAN-GUARANTY

The Federal Reserve Board in effect approved the 4-billion dollar merger of Guaranty Trust Co., and J. P. Morgan & Co. The American Banker, a daily trade newspaper, said the Justice Department has decided not to intervene. The merger will become effective as soon as G. Russell Clark, New York state banking superintendent, who had okayed the merger Wednesday, issues his formal certificate of approval.

Mrs. Taylor Is Hostess To Auxiliary

The lovely Lee Avenue home of Mrs. Ruby Taylor was the setting for the April meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Monroe Police Department.

The meeting was called to order and Mrs. Duncan Ottwell led the group in prayer. Reports were given from the various auxiliary officers, after which a short business session was held.

Mrs. Mamie Woods displayed sample yearbooks and appointed a committee to assist her in preparation for editing.

Highlighting the evening was the exhibition of the Peace Officers Magazine.

Mrs. Beverly Johnson presented the door prize, a black demi tasse set to Mrs. Duncan Ottwell.

In the living room, amid lovely flower arrangements, the hostesses, Mrs. Ruby Taylor and Mrs. Mamie Wood, served the refreshments.

Announcement was made of the regular monthly party for the adopted Boy Scout troop which will be held at the L. T. I. gymnasium and all members are urged to attend.

Members enjoying the social hour and a tour of the newly decorated kitchen were: Mrs. Norma Breland, Mrs. Julia Brown, Mrs. Catheline Bryan, Mrs. Virginia Grant, Mrs. Aline Hendrix, Mrs. Beverly Johnson, Mrs. H. B. Johnson, Mrs. Marie Kelly, Mrs. Ann Martin, Mrs. Duncan Ottwell, Mrs. Frances Parker, Mrs. Loretta Roden, Mrs. Frankie Rogers, Mrs. Inez Spangler, Mrs. Johnnie Whitlow and Mrs. Mamie Wood.

Logtown HDC Is Hosted By Mrs. Long

Mrs. Neil Long, assisted by Mrs. Garland Shipp, was hostess to the April meeting of Logtown Home Demonstration Club recently.

"Baking the Staff of Life" was efficiently demonstrated by Mrs. J. G. Haynes, food preparation leader. Club members observed the procedure for making sweet rolls and breads, starting with a basic sweet dough recipe. Mrs. Marvin Shipp, club president, conducted the business session.

Mrs. Aaron Stout, consumer education and family life leader, gave pointers on the best food buys as well as helpful information on family unity. Mrs. Eugene Granberry gave the safety and health report. Timely tips for storing winter garments and the use of insect preventatives were discussed by Mrs. Thomas Stockwell, home management leader.

Plans were made for observance of National Home Demonstration Week May 1 through 9.

At the conclusion of business, a social hour was enjoyed.

Mrs. Paul Barnett, the sister of Mrs. Granberry, and Mrs. V. H. Faust, a former club member were guests. Members attending were Mrs. W. J. Lowe, W. A. Caloway, J. A. Shipp, C. C. Scharf, Aaron Stout, Neal McHenry, W. F. Ramsey, Shipp, E. M. Granberry, Haynes, J. T. Bennett, J. L. Zachary and Mrs. Thomas Stockwell.

Castle Taken Over As Act Of Protest

BRUSSEL (UPI) — About 150 students stormed a medieval castle near Waterloo battleground and held it for 12 hours Friday.

The invasion was carried out to dramatize a protest that the government was spending too little on education and too much on historical monuments, which included the castle.

The demonstrators from the University of Brussels agreed to give up the moat - surrounded fortress under an "honorable peace." Amnesty was promised all participants.

The students swam the moat of Beersel Castle during the night to capture the ancient fortress. Taking the castle was easy. The students faced only about half a dozen employees of the museum housed there and the restaurant on the premises. Once across the moat and inside the castle they shut the big oaken doors and the fort was theirs.

The invaders quickly set up loud speakers and blared their defiance at cordon of police who arrived shortly after dawn.

The steel-helmeted federal gendarmes, harking back to the ancient rituals of knighthood, sent in an unarmed messenger to parley with the enemy.

Someone in the occupation forces smacked the messenger with a ripe tomato.

After reaching agreement with authorities that no repercussions would follow the demonstration, the students met a convoy of trucks and battered old cars that came from the university.

They drank beer and ate sandwiches on the castle lawn.

ON UNION REFORMS BILL

Congress Liberals Disappoint Labor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—AFL-CIO officials lamented Friday that some "so-called liberal" congressmen apparently don't love them in April as they did in November.

They said they were going to be a little more choosy in the future in bestowing their election favors.

The note was sounded by Secretary-Treasurer Al Hartnett of the International Union of Electrical Workers in the current issue of the union's newspaper. Other AFL-CIO officials said they shared his heartache.

A definite sign that some romances had cooled since the Nov. 4 congressional elections came on Wednesday when several union-backed senators helped push through Sen. John L. McClellan's "bill of rights" amendment to the union reform bill.

But Hartnett said their ardor had cooled even before that. He said some of the "so-called" liberals had "experienced a swift conversion after the ballots were counted."

Pointing to civil rights, area redevelopment and unemployment compensation bills, he said "the alleged liberals have walked gingerly indeed."

The AFL-CIO is going to be a "little more selective in choosing our friends in 1960," he said, keeping a particularly close eye on "those who showed false colors during last year's campaign."

Hartnett mentioned no names. However, Democratic Sens. Thomas Dodd (Conn.) and Dennis Chavez (N. Mex.), who got union financial backing last November, both voted "wrong" by labor's standards on the "bill of rights" amendment.

Officials of the AFL-CIO's political arm, the Committee on Political Education, said they already were busy checking on records of labor-backed congressmen.

Air Force Chief Rates U. S. Even In Space Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever rates the United States and the Soviet Union "about even" in the race for space.

"We've made tremendous advances in the last five years," the 48-year-old Air Force chief of missiles and research told a Senate Space subcommittee Friday.

Schriever hinted that missiles, satellites and other space weapons may replace manned bombers sooner than many think as the foremost deterrent to aggression.

Even though the Soviet Union launched the first satellite and put heavier payloads into space, Schriever said, U. S. experts have made gains in guidance, fuel and other areas of the scientific struggle.

"I have no reason to believe that they are ahead of us in every field," Schriever testified.

Schriever alluded to his suggestion of Thursday that the Pentagon's space unit, the Advanced Research Projects Agency, should be eliminated and its funds and functions turned over to the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The Air Force now is unable to initiate its own space projects, he testified, because ARPA has both the funds and the responsibilities.

BEFORE SENATE GROUP

Official Defends Steel Price Hikes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel, said Friday his industry's price increases stemmed from an inflation fed by union wage boosts and a 400 per cent rise in government spending.

At a lively session of the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee, Blough defended the steel industry's price hikes and profit margins. He said the industry didn't want to raise prices in the foreseeable future unless "events" forced it to.

The industry opens wage talks with the United Steelworkers Union May 5.

Blough testified against a bill, sponsored by Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), which would require certain big corporations to give 30 days notice of any price increase. Public hearings would be held on the proposed boosts.

When Blough declared that a price control philosophy lay behind the legislation, O'Mahoney lectured for 10 minutes on government and inflation. The senator also accused the steel executive of larding his testimony with "misconceptions" and "misstatements."

Under questioning by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), subcommittee chairman, Blough charged that a subcommittee chart on U.S. profits contained "distortions." He denied that steel profits had risen more than costs, as the chart indicated.

Blough also rejected any idea that American industry has the monopoly power to "administer" prices and cause inflation. He suggested that the subcommittee look into the "administered prices" of labor as fixed by unions and the "administered price" of government as set by Congress and local authorities.

Since 1940, he said, the price of manufactured products has risen 112 per cent, while the "administered price" of hourly labor has gone up 222 per cent, and the "administered price" of government has increased more than 400 per cent, even on a per capita basis.

Kefauver told Blough that steel prices had risen 38 per cent in the 1953-58 period, and asked whether the upward swing could continue.

Blough offered steel industry statistics listing profits of 5 to 8 per cent of sales. He said the steel industry "has had, if anything, inadequate profits and has not increased its profits in this period."

Blough also testified that the industry's employment costs have risen 81 cents an hour — from $2.87 to $3.68 — in the three years since the industry last negotiated a wage agreement with the union. He said this amounted to an increase of more than 28 per cent.

SHAREOWNERS

Shareowner growth is proceeding faster than most experts anticipated. Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, reported. The exchange's last survey in 1956 showed shareholder population at 8,600,000 per cent of sales. He said the

Lions Elect Officers And Plan Rodeo

JONESVILLE (Special) — Officers of the Jonesville Lions were elected at their regular weekly meeting at the Catahoula Courts Cafe.

The Rev. Sammy Shrum was elected to the presidency of the club. Other officers and directors to serve for the ensuing year beginning July 1, 1959 were: J. G. Womack, 1st vice president; Weldon T. Smith, 2nd vice president; C. L. Wurster Jr., 3rd vice president; Ted Husser, secretary; Roy Riley, treasurer, Fred Fairbanks, Lion tail twister; H. G. Taliaferro, Lion Tamer; directors elected for one year term, Cabe T. Lee and Hal Scott, and directors elected for two year term, B. R. Cain and George Keeth.

H. G. Taliaferro is the retiring president and will become the immediate past president.

All officers will serve for one year, taking office on July 1, 1959. The report of the nominating committee, comprised of R. B. Riley, Fred Fairbanks and H. G. Taliaferro was unanimously adopted.

The Club also has officially set the date for their annual rodeo for July 2, 3 and 4. A contract was signed with Donald Perkins of Pitkin for production of the annual rodeo.

The three - day holiday week end and entertainment will be kicked off on Thursday, July 2, with a gigantic and colorful parade including floats, decorated automobiles and a "calvalcade" of horseback riders.

George Keeth was instrumental in obtaining the services of Perkins in producing the rodeo.

TRouble-MAKER

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Four - year - old Chuck Thrall, who was taken to police headquarters after being found wandering near his home early one morning, exposed at least nine persons to his measles before his father arrived to fetch him back home.

Next day, Chuck managed to set fire to his mattress and suffered first and second degree burns.

Report Second Set Of Triplet Calves In Area

WINNSBORO (Special) — The second set of triplet calves born this week in Northeast Louisiana was reported here last night by J. M. Parks, Ward 8 farmer.

Parks said the calves all died at birth sometime Wednesday night.

The calves were born to a five-year-old guernsey which had brought only one previous calf, Parks said.

Tuesday night a set of triplet calves were born in Sterling. One of them died at birth.

The Sterling calves were born on the farm of Bruce Gregg.

Both Gregg and Parks reported their calves were perfectly formed.

Parks said his calves were white-faced.

Road Machines Demonstrated In Game Area

District biologist supervisors from throughout Louisiana met at the Union Parish Game Management Area yesterday to see a demonstration on road machines and to learn how roads may be better developed and maintained for hunters.

Biologist Joe Herring said about 25 persons attended the demonstration, which included several road machines that were shown by Monroe firms.

The biologists are interested in learning how roads may be improved for hunters traveling to public hunting areas, and how routes to game management areas may be best developed, through the use of proper road machinery, Herring added.

Firm Is Accused Of Price-Fixing In Gasoline War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Trade Commission accused the Atlantic Refining Co. of Philadelphia Friday of fixing gasoline prices in a price war on the Delmarva peninsula.

The FTC filed a three-count complaint against Atlantic, one of the country's top petroleum producers. It said the firm has been using illegal methods to control retail prices since May, 1957.

The FTC said Atlantic fixed the resale price of both regular and high-test gasoline by pressuring independent lessee - dealers into consignment contracts, causing wholesalers and their customers to post maintained prices and conspiring with other dealers to maintain fixed prices.

Catahoula Jury Returns 2 Bills

HARRISBURG (Special) — The Catahoula Parish Grand Jury, empaneled Monday, returned two true bills and two no true bills. The jury returned a true bill against Jerry Lee Know, Sicily Island Negro. Know was charged with unlawfully and feloniously attempting to commit simple burglary of the store building belonging to Annie Montgomery on Jan. 23.

The other true bill was returned against Leroy Kelly of Harrisonburg. He was charged with unlawfully and intentionally damaging property belonging to Edward Enright Jr. without the consent of the owner.

LSU Reveals Engineering Scholarship

BATON ROUGE (Special) — A Louisiana high school senior wishing to study petroleum engineering can enter Louisiana State University in September under a $500 scholarship provided by the Standard Oil Company of Texas.

Professor Benjamin C. Craft,

Fort Necessity; Mrs. Edward Jones, Jigger; Mrs. L. C. Hutto, Tallulah; his father Lucius H. Hitt, Winnsboro; three brothers Eugene and Lucius Hitt of Winnsboro; Lothard Hitt, Jigger; two sisters Mrs. Dora Scriber, Fort Necessity; Mrs. Epsie Johnson, Winnsboro; and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Frank Barfield, Staford Bankston, R. S. Bonner, John onner, Lee and Vann Wooldridge.

head of the LSU petroleum engineering department, said the scholarship has been established in order to attract students into the field and help alleviate a contemplated future shortage of these engineers.

"Enrollment statistics at LSU and other colleges and universities throughout the nation indicate that future demand for petroleum engineers will exceed supply, and in about two years the situation will become acute," said Professor Craft.

"1950 was a bad year for graduate placement but from 1951 to the recession period in 1958, we experienced no difficulty in finding jobs for them. In 1958 we did have some difficulty but we are back to normal now," Professor Craft said.

To qualify for the scholarship, the student must demonstrate an interest in petroleum engineering, must have completed three units of high school mathematics and a course in chemistry or physics by June, 1959.

The award will be made on the basis of scholastic record and financial need.

Scholarship application forms may be obtained by writing Professor Craft, Petroleum Engineering Department, LSU, Baton Rouge.

All of our milk now undergoes the new Vacu-Therm process. This new process, the only one of its kind in this area, picks up where ordinary pasteurization leaves off—brings you milk that has a clean, fresh, natural taste every day of the year. This new process is our secret to retain all the original goodness of milk. It prevents the odd or unusual tastes that mar your full enjoyment of milk in the spring. To be sure you and your family enjoy milk that has the same good flavor in April as it has in December, buy our milk — processed by Vacu-Therm.

DOES YOUR MILK TASTE DIFFERENT LATELY... THEN SWITCH TO GREEN BROS.
